Charge of Corruption in New York.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The statement by Chairman B. F. Jones, of the Republican National Committee, that there were 1,000 colored votes in the town of New Lots, a suburb of Brooklyn, and that over 700 more votes were polled in the same town than were registered, has caused much indignation among the New York Republican electors. Superintendent Lewis, a prominent Republican of New York, said to a reporter yesterday: "The statement of Chairman Jones is simply preposterous. I do not believe that a dozen irregular votes were cast in fact. I do not know of one, nor do I know anybody except Chairman Jones who says that there were one hundred of them. Of the 700 more votes cast than were registered, there were just 177 more registered than were cast, and many voters neither registered nor voted. Such statements as that of Jones are most injurious and unjust. They tend to create public uneasiness and distrust, and are a reflection upon communities which have as much to do with the election as we have. I am a Republican, and a strong one, and I am not likely to be speaking from pro-Democratic bias. I know that I never knew a fairer or more satisfactory election in New York since I have lived here." L. Biederman is the Town Clerk and the regular candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket.

William C. Whitney's Opinion.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The following statement by ex-Governor Counsel William C. Whitney, was given out by the Democratic National Committee as the expression of their sentiments at the present time.

"The situation to-day is as follows: The returns show a plurality for Blaine in the State as shown by every estimate and return, official, unofficial, hostile or friendly. The Blaine managers have been endeavoring to figure out a plurality, but at length reluctantly admit that with all their claims allowed, Cleveland has the vote. They have taken another tack and propose to carry this State after election if they can. For this purpose they are gathering together political lawbreakers and election manipulators. Their scheme is to Floridaize New York by counties and to induce Republican leaders of Supervisors to throw out votes on the ground of pretended irregularities. The fact is, that the claims of errors are about equal on both sides, with the balance in favor of Cleveland and against Blaine. For instance, in Chautauque County there is an irregularity amounting to over 400, principally Democrats. In the State would County one of 10, while in Richmond, Saratoga and other counties mistakes also appear which tell in favor of Cleveland if corrected without injury to Cleveland's plurality. If the country were to be thrown into disorder for the adjudication of more technicalities the ultimate result in the State would be a figure out of the plurality now universally accorded to Cleveland and Hendricks. But returning to their tactics, they will be tolerated. Any attempt to control the election by prostituting the constituted authorities to factional uses will be indignantly resisted by the people of New York as revolutionary and incendiary. The result being clearly ascertained and incapable of change by fair means, there is no more reason for prolonging excitement and agitation after the late election than after any preceding one. The Presidency of the United States is not to be decided upon one side allegations of clerical errors. Neither the vote of New York State nor any of its counties can be Floridaized. The attempt now being made to do that at the direct instigation of Mr. Blaine and under his direction, only serves to intensify the determination of the people of New York who have been elected shall be seated."

From a Democratic Standpoint.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—This Times says: "Acting under the direction of Blaine, disappointed politicians and jobbers of the Republican National Committee, as his agents, have conceived the plan of subjecting the canvass of the votes of New York to the supervision of a new band of visiting statesmen of politicians in the West have been urged to come to this city and to ask the co-operation of the friends of the Republican party in that wayward city, or who may have already reached New York, are Pension Committee members Dudley and John C. New. Among those in the East who have been asked to join the 'overseers,' is Benjamin H. Brewster, once Secretary of the Treasury, who showed that he is elected for the State of his adoption by sending the following reply: 'New York, Nov. 10.—Having no experience in supervising election returns or watching a count of votes, I have decided probably that I will be called upon to do so now. In my opinion there is no occasion to fear that the expressed will of the people will be defeated in this State. The excellence of existing election laws, the intelligence and patriotism of the people and the courage and vigilance of both parties may be relied upon to detect any such attempt. You may be so sure of a fair count in this State. (Signed) B. H. Brewster." The Times Washington special says there is no inclination of the Republican leaders to submit to the result of the election. A repetition of the scenes of '70 is contemplated, with many of the same persons as chief actors. The wires are loaded with dispatches summoning the holder leaders to the assistance of the National Committee. Among them are several members of the noted Wormly Conference of 1876. In managing Democratic circles there are intimations of forthcoming disclosures in regard to the part played by some of Mr. Blaine's present active workers in the seating of Mr. Hayes in 1876. A great air of mystery is thrown over the matter by those who have referred to it, and this is increased by the declaration that it has nothing to do with what took place in Louisiana, Florida or South Carolina, or at the Wormly Conference here, but that it relates to transactions in Washington, no hint of which has ever been made public. It is to be known to be an attempt to throw doubt over the New York result as to give ground for a reconsideration of the result and afterward in Congress. The belief is that in Congress they hope to succeed by plans similar to those quietly employed by the same means in 1876. The voters of New York State have intelligence and patriotism enough to insure a fair count. Visiting statesmen are not ready to admit that their own representative men are so untrustworthy and dishonest that they should not be allowed to canvass election returns, unless some Western politician looks over their shoulders and checks every figure. In taking this step Mr. Blaine and his agents have revealed their desperation and exposed their ignorance of the character of our people." The World says: "All day yesterday several conferences were held in the rooms of the National Republican Committee. At 5 o'clock the following dispatch was sent by telegraph: 'The committee is confident that the official count will give New York and elect Blaine and Logan.' Also a dispatch was sent to a trusty Republican at Glen Cove, Long Island, as follows: 'Have all the Republican Inspectors present at the counting of the County Canvassers.'"

A Republican View.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Tribune says: "We see occasion to express our opinion that only the official count can determine the result of election in this State, and that it is likely to show a small plurality for Blaine. The Democratic party, on the other hand, is a little less than 400 plurality in the State. This, the errors, or worse, already discovered, would mean a change in the result. The count must be conducted with the utmost accuracy and under the most rigid legal scrutiny, with resort to the proper courts wherever necessary. The Democratic party, if it gives Mr. Blaine's official plurality of 1,700 instead of 773 plurality, and in St. Lawrence County Blaine's official plurality of 1,700 instead of an even 7,400, as hitherto counted, a net gain for Blaine of the four counties of Albany County has been given up. It is known by dispatches from the various county clerks is 1,234."

Evarts' Return Home.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—William M. Evarts has arrived in the city from Vermont in response to a telegram from the Republican National Committee. He declined to say whether any plans had been talked over looking to a legal contest of the vote in doubt full counties. "Do you believe that Blaine is elected?" the reporter asked him. "My views, as a citizen, are of no consequence," he answered. "Were not the circumstances urgent for which you were so suddenly summoned back?" "I wasn't summoned back," said Mr. Evarts, laying marked stress upon the verb. "I live here, don't I? Can't I come home?"

Illinois Legislature a Tie.
 CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A recent estimate as to the completion of the Illinois State Legislature is that it will be a tie on joint ballot, the Senate having a majority of one over the House. The House has a majority of one Democrat. Contesters are likely to issue in three districts which may reverse this condition of affairs. The situation is made more interesting from the fact that a successor to General Logan is to be selected.

Frank Hurd Will Contest.
 TOLEDO, O., Nov. 11.—Frank Hurd said yesterday that he has decided to contest the election of Blaine. He claims that he has already discovered errors amounting to reduce Blaine's majority from 229 to 99 outside of Lucas County. He says there is one error of 50 in Erie County, and another of 50 in Lucas County. He says he now feels satisfied that he was legally elected.

Rumors of Marriages.
 ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Governor Cleveland and spent the day in almost absolute rest and quiet at the Executive Mansion. The rumor that the Governor intends to marry anybody was commuted upon to some extent here by the fact that the Governor has been considered intimate personal friends of the Governor. He has been asked to marry anybody and he has said that he has no intention to commit matrimony. He has not divulged it to any one at the capital, as far as is now learned.

Placating Voters.
 CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The Tribune editorially

says: "In view of the stress which has been put on the unofficial figures purporting to give the exact vote of New York for President at the late election, we desire to call attention to the discrepancies in these same returns as printed four years ago. The figures as they then stood, successive days by the New York papers were:

	1880.	Times.	Tribune.	World.
Nov. 3.	23,000	23,000	23,000	23,000
Nov. 4.	23,000	23,000	23,000	23,000
Nov. 5.	23,000	23,000	23,000	23,000
Nov. 6.	23,000	23,000	23,000	23,000

"The Herald and Sun of November 6 each said that Garfield's plurality was 20,000. As late as November 9—one week after the election—the official vote of the State was given in all the papers as 21,231. But the official canvass showed that the plurality was really 21,005—a difference of 226 votes. It is now only six days after the election, yet on the third day—Friday—Mr. Blaine pretended to be so positive of the result that he directed his party friends to 'ratify' all over the United States. In this connection it is proper to notice that Blaine had the 'frank' cry in 1880 as vigorously as he has this year, and he was quoted and silenced by the positive interference of some of the cooler heads of the Democratic party. We invite those who may have confidence in Blaine's sincerity now to examine the records of 1880 and see how reckless and dishonest he then was in order to form a proper judgment as to his character and purposes now."

Giving Up at Buffalo.
 BUFFALO, Nov. 11.—The Evening News says: "Many Blaine backers in this city have been paying little or no attention to the Associated Press and authorities conceded Cleveland's plurality in this State. Republican leaders in the city have given up the fight, taken down their banners, and leveled their wigwags. They deprecate the measures being adopted by their party leaders to change the result."

Two Deaths.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—B. F. Jones, of the Republican National Committee, was asked about the report that Messrs. Evarts, Dudley, New and others had been summoned here by the National Committee. He said that it was not so.

"I know nothing of the whereabouts of members of either Mr. New or Mr. Dudley," he said. "Mr. Evarts was engaged a few days ago to take charge of whatever legal affairs the committee might have. Mr. Evarts has been out of the city for some time, but returned last night. The committee did not summon him."

The report that one hundred Democratic lawyers were to start to-day for the various counties in the interest of the National Democratic Committee was denied to-day by Mr. Charles F. Millard.

"About two hundred lawyers offered their services," he said, "but as there were no need of their services they were declined. About a dozen have gone out to certain counties to see that justice is done at the county canvass."

Slight Errors in the Returns.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Figures received by Colonel Laumont during the day following slight changes in the vote of certain counties. Albany County's official vote is 640, a gain of 10 for Cleveland over the last canvass. In Delaware County Blaine received 975 instead of 968 plurality. Essex County gives Blaine 773 plurality, and in St. Lawrence County Blaine's official plurality is 1,700 instead of an even 7,400, as hitherto counted, a net gain for Blaine of the four counties of Albany County has been given up. It is known by dispatches from the various county clerks is 1,234."

All suits were brought in 1875 for $1,000 and damages. This was a test case. The court said there were no more suits. Orders thus received were sent to the Ontario clothing manufacturers and then by the aid of a local broker were forwarded to the line from the line. # THE DAILY BULLETIN.

TUESDAY EVE, NOVEMBER 11, 1884.

A NEW YORK despatch says that the men on Wall street are paying their election bets.

FRANK HUBB has decided to contest the election of Blaine in the Toledo, O., Congressional district. He says he now feels satisfied that he was legally elected.

THE NEW YORK Sun, of Saturday, says: "But now there is no question of Cleveland's election, and the bets must be settled in accordance with the cold facts, and not the hot desires of those who put up their money. It is no longer of any use to watch bulletin boards or to wait on flattering hopes. The agony is over, and now let everybody go to work to make up for the time lost to business and spent in parading, cheering and studying the returns.

Bear your losses like men, and pocket your profits without undue exultation.

THE NEW YORK election law requires that the inspectors of election shall file their returns within twenty-four hours after the election is over with the County Clerk, in the county where the election is held. To-day a Board of Supervisors meet in every county to canvass the returns. It is their duty simply to add up the totals of the returns from townships, districts and wards, certify to their accuracy and transmit through the County Clerk the certified returns to the Secretary of State at Albany. Three sets of returns are made, one of which is sent by mail to the Governor, another to the Secretary of State by mail, and the third to the same officer by the hands of a special messenger. When returns are all in the Secretary of State notifies the canvassers to be present on the 10th. During this month the Board of Canvassers, consisting of Secretary of State Carr, who is a Republican, Attorney General O'Brien, Controller Chapin, State Treasurer Maxwell and State Engineer Sweet meet in Albany and add up the totals of the Supervisors' returns from the counties. The result is the official vote of the State, and according to it certificates are issued by the board to the electors who have been chosen.

THE Cincinnati Evening Post says: The registration and election laws of New York are the work of Horace Greeley made when he was the head and front of the Republican party in the nation, to circumvent the wholesale frauds committed by the Tweed ring in New York city. They are as strong as such laws can be made. They have stood the test of time and strain. Since their passage no election frauds have been perpetrated in New York; no charges of fraud have been made. On the contrary, it has been conceded on all sides that the fairest elections in the United States have occurred in New York State, and especially in New York city. For this reason the people of the entire country should rest perfectly secure in the belief that an honest vote was cast throughout the Empire State, and that a fair count will be made, and the certificates issued to the Cleveland and Hendricks electors.

Men of all classes should promptly lay political issues away for a long rest, and turn their attention to their manual business and professional duties. Let all give a willing hand to resuscitation of the terribly depressed business of the country. If business men will now entirely ignore politics and strain their powers to revive the circulation of commerce, a revival or partial prosperity will come. Every man who has the means should do his utmost to either revive languishing enterprises or start new ones, that employment may be given to the thousands of idle hands throughout the land.

Let there be peace, prosperity and patriotism.

THE political situation is well described in the following article from the Cincinnati Evening Post of Monday: All the returns are complete in New York. On Friday evening every precinct in the great State had made its official returns to the County Clerks. On Saturday committees of both parties visited the offices of every County in New York State and spent the day examining those returns with the greatest possible care, both for clerical and legal errors. Saturday night it was by both parties, to you the shadow of a doubt, that, according to the face of the returns, Cleveland and Hendricks had carried the State by a plurality of 1,212 to 1,234, the latter being the official figure as appears on the returns. Many technical errors have been discovered, and some few clerical errors. The clerical errors can be corrected readily, and have been in this computation, and do not alter Cleveland's plurality a hundred votes either way. There is, therefore, no longer any doubt but that a plurality of 1,234 of the voters of the State of New York have declared that they would rather have Grover Cleveland than James G. Blaine for President of the United States. The legal technicalities, which the Republic can National Committee seems determined to raise in the face of the protests of a great majority of the people of the United States and nearly the entire business interests, must be decided by the courts. This will necessitate delay, but it is hardly possible to believe that the courts of the State of New York will set aside the will of the people, simply because the official agents of those people, in some instances, were not good lawyers and made a few technical blunders. The will of the voter, as expressed in his ballot, should never be reversed because the official who counted that ballot did not make a strictly legal return of it. This is a well established law. The claim that Blaine is elected rests entirely on the hope that the technical legal errors already discovered, and that may yet be discovered, will be used by the courts to reverse the expressed wishes of the people. This is a very slender thread on which to hang a claim, and the effort necessary to make it with the confidence which it was done by the Republican National Committee has a tendency to create an uneasiness in the public mind which must have a protracted depression on business. But the people must remember that party committees are always expected to claim everything with confidence. Again, a committee which has suffered a crushing defeat when it little expected it, must be generously allowed to let itself down as not to jar its constitution. Looking at the claims of the Republican National Committee in this light, the public should be moved more by a feeling of pity than anger.

SAVED BY A MOTHER'S TEARS.

The Man Who Spent Thirty-five Years in an Unavailing Search for Gold.

[Chicago Herald.] In the crowd at the Lake Shore Depot last night was a big fellow wearing a fur overcoat and a broad-brimmed hat. He walked up and down the great platform, with his hands in his pockets, smoking and singing, apparently in the best of humor. One of those lighthearted men always to be found near a railway train, who had been watching him for some time, finally ventured to address him.

"From the West?"

"Going East?"

"You bet."

The inquisitive man became interested. He was going East, too. It was eleven years since he had been east of Lake Michigan, and he was going down to see the old folks in Pennsylvania.

"That ain't a marker to me," said the Westerner, with great vehemence. "I went West in '49 and this is my first appearance this side of the Rocky Mountains since. I live when I'm in home in Maine, and that's where I'm going now. When I left there I was a boy of twenty-two or thereabout. Do you think they will know me now?" and he stroked his iron gray hair thoughtfully.

"They will if you've got rich in the meantime," said the inquisitive man, making an assumption as if he did not care whether the question implied his remark was answered or not. He was equally surprised when his companion responded:

"That's just it, stranger. I've been on I've been on the coast these thirty-five years. Jerusalem! but think of it—a thirty-five year absence! I've had more than a thousand prospects that were considered immense. I've been chasing something, nothing, all these years. Sleeping or waking, I've been chasing gold. Did you ever get that way? No, of course you didn't. I have seen gold everywhere and yet could not find it. The mountains with their snowy peaks, the glistering ice, the sparkling fountains have all filled me with wonder, avarice, greed. Everything that shone tempted me. My eyes have been strained so long, my whole being has been so absorbed in this cursed search, that it tires me to look anywhere, and I am weary. I like to smoke and close my eyes and think. A wasted life is not pleasant for reflection. The hardships that I have endured, the things that might have hurt, haunt me and disgust me with myself."

"Relatives down East?" inquired the man by his side, who was getting interested.

"Yes, sir, my mother, and that's what taking me over the divide, stranger. A curious thing about that. Mighty curious. For thirty-five years I hardly gave the old lady a thought. She wrote frequently and I wrote when I had time, but now I have done it. I was absorbed in gold hunting, when one day I received a letter from her containing her photograph. She's more'n seventy-five years old. It struck me like an avalanche. 'Poor old mother, says I, and as I looked up I saw myself, wrinkled and gray, in a glass, and I said, 'poor old mother, I had lost interest in gold, quartz and placers. When I looked at the snowy peaks I saw my mother. I dreaded her at night. Her eyes were always before me, swimming in tears as they were the way we parted. Finally I gave up, converted the little property I had into dust, and determined to go home. I don't care who knows it. Here's a forty-niner who has been lured from the gold country by a mother's tears. It will pay me richer dividends than the things that I have been chasing so long."

I have thoroughly tried your MANALIN, and it has done me more good ten-fold than all the doctors' prescriptions, and I have used legions of them.'

"Mr. Edgar Harte, Smelter, P. O., Elk county, Pa., writes: 'I have bought several bottles of your PERUNA, and find it to be of great benefit. I also gave it to some of my friends; they experienced the same result.'

"Mr. L. R. Wollen, 45 and 47 Ross street, Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: 'I am taking PERUNA with good result, and can highly recommend it to all. I have applied at the different drug stores for one of your books. They claim they have none on hand at present. Please do me the favor to send me one.'

"W. W. Russell, druggist, Canonsburg, Pa., writes: 'I handle your medicine, PERUNA. I have sold immense quantities of it, and consider it a staple article. "Calista Fisher, Malvern, Ohio, writes: 'I take pleasure in recommending the use of PERUNA and MANALIN to any one afflicted with any form of lung or bronchial trouble. I have been for some time afflicted with a very troublesome cough, but a few bottles of PERUNA entirely cured me.'
